I agree.

I spoke with Vince tonight. Strangely, he and Jason haven't even spoken yet about the letter which I find a little odd. Jason has been out sick with the stomach flu. They've yet to talk about how to respond. I've asked them to try to respond to the proposal unemotionally - which is probably impossible for them. Vince isn't sure Jason will be there tomorrow or not. I'm going to bug him again in the morning.

We should also discuss what the plan B is going to look like. Steve and I going out there is one option, but there could still be a ton of risk getting the project done depending on how the team takes it. Treych taking it over now is also an option, but scary given the tight timeline. It would probably have to be a combination of the two.

I know you mentioned that Brian K. is pretty over them at this point, but is everyone ready for the big, negative PR story this is going to turn into if we kick them out?

Just want to make sure we know what we're getting into. Freaking me out a little.

See you in the morning.

Dave

sorry Dave, just picking this up now. Let's talk first thing in the a.m.

I'd like nothing better than to solve this, so thanks for working it. But we've got to make sure we will have a game.

Hey Mike,

Has there been anything back from IW over the weekend?

Can we discuss IW tonight or first thing in the morning? I've been talking to Vince and he's trying to be helpful but feels meeting with Jason right now (if he'll even show) would be a big mistake. Vince is trying to keep things positive - he's worried that Jason is going to cross the line.

Let me know if you have a minute to chat. My home number is [REDACTED]. My cell doesn't always work at home.

I'd really like a few days to try to work this out. The letter really took them by surprise and freaked them out. Might help to let things calm down a little.

Dave
